

Distributor Fast Track

When booking a film licence it can sometimes be a tricky to find out who the distributor is for a particular film. To help you find the distributor for the films you would like to screen we have created this distributor fast track guide to help you find this information easily.

Below are a list of distribution companies and the distributors/studios they represent that you can approach to book the licence for a film.*

Studio/Distributor:

Cinema For All

cinemaforall.org.uk/booking-scheme/

The Cinema For All Booking Scheme features over 800 films, representing some of the very best of world cinema, British films, independent features, documentaries and crossover titles.

Some of our distribution partners include:

- Altitude Releasing
- Eureka
- Network
- Modern Films
- Day For Night
- AX1 Entertainment
- Aya Distribution
- + many more

BFI

BFI distribution have a wide range British and foreign language titles as well as distributing films non-theatrically for distributors including:

- Artificial Eye
- Curzon
- Dogwoof

Filmbankmedia

Filmbankmedia represents prominent Hollywood and independent studios and distributors from around the world, with over 13,000 titles available from studios such as:

- Pathe
- Universal
- Paramount
- Warner Brothers
- 20th Century Fox
- Disney
- Pixar
- Sony Pictures

- Lionsgate
- Buena Vista (Also known as Disney)
- Arrow
- Peccadillo (some of their films)

+ many more

MPLC

MPLC represents more than 1000 rightsholders, from major Hollywood studios to independents and TV producers including:

- Baby Cow Productions
- Aardman
- Dreamworks Pictures
- Ealing Studios International
- Focus Features
- Metro Goldwyn Mayer (MGM) Studios

Troy Film Agency

Troy Film Agency distributes films for E1 Entertainment and also occasionally offer discounted licences on selected titles for community cinema screenings.

Independent distributors

Thunderbird Releasing

<http://www.thunderbirdreleasing.com/>

Bulldog Film Distribution

<https://www.bulldog-film.com/>

Kaleidoscope Film Distribution

<http://www.kaleidoscopefilmdistribution.com/>

* The distribution company that represents film licences can sometimes change. We recommend that you visit a distributor's website or contact them directly to confirm they hold the licence for the film you're looking for and that you can get the licence from them to screen the film. The information in this guide is correct when it was created (May 2019).